Payment Services Agreement — Draft for negotiation

Draft v0.3 dated 15 September 2026 · Brevis Pay Pte Ltd and its Indian subsidiary ("Brevis") and Legion Capital Ltd ("Legion")

Recitals

A. Legion wishes to route part of its payment volume through Brevis.
B. Brevis's Indian subsidiary is authorised by the Reserve Bank of India as a payment aggregator (authorised in 2025).

§3 Services

Card, UPI (including UPI AutoPay), eNACH, net banking, international card acceptance and EMI/BNPL APIs at checkout.

§7 Data handling

Brevis will process Legion data in accordance with applicable law and its standard security practices.

§9 Liability

Brevis's aggregate liability is capped at 3 months' fees.

§10 Indemnity

Brevis indemnifies Legion only for losses caused by Brevis's gross negligence or wilful misconduct.

§12 Governing law and disputes

Laws of Singapore. Disputes are resolved by arbitration seated in Singapore.

Schedule 1 — Pricing (final quote, 15 September 2026)

#	Item	Price
1	Blended processing fee	0.176% of payment volume
2	Dispute (chargeback) handling	₹250 per dispute
3	Card settlement	T+1 (UPI T+1)
4	India-only hosting add-on (keeps fraud scoring and all processing in India)	₹6 lakh per month, flat

Note: Brevis may revise prices on 30 days' written notice.

> Legion Legal — review notes (internal, 22 Sep 2026)
>
> 1. §7 has no clause on where data is stored or processed. Legion policy requires India-only processing of payment data.
> 2. The draft has no audit or inspection rights for Legion or the RBI. Required under Legion's vendor policy and RBI outsourcing norms.
> 3. Brevis has not yet provided a Data Processing Agreement.

> 4. No incident-notification timeline. Legion requires 2-hour notification.

Legion Capital, Arvanta Payments, Brevis Pay, Sentrix Risk, Vireo Finance, Coral Bank and Tamra Bank are fictional.